Electoral Commission QUEENSLAND

Endorsement of a candidate for an election

By a registered political party

The registered officer of a registered political party must notify the ECQ when:

a. the party endorses a person to be a candidate in an election; or

b. the party proposes to endorse a person to be a candidate in an election by publicly announcing the party's intention to endorse the person as a candidate for the election or starts to incur electoral expenditure for the benefit of the person as a candidate for the election; or

c. the party's endorsement or proposed endorsement of the person changes before the polling day for the election.

This form may be completed by the registered political party's registered officer to notify the ECQ of a candidate's endorsement for an election.

The ECQ will notify the person endorsed as a candidate as soon as practicable upon receipt of this form.

Lodgement timeframe

This form must be submitted within 7 days of the endorsement occurring, or changing.
