- Explore how developments in election-related technology can assist the ECQ to become more efficient, effective, responsive and secure.
- The implementation of Stage 1 Belcarra legislation enacted by parliament increases public interest in the role of the ECQ and will allow us to showcase improvements to election services and increase community participation in the electoral process.

Risks

- Continually changing stakeholder expectations for new and complex IT systems may lead to unforeseen costs and complexity in delivering elections.
-Preparing for and delivering two major events in 2020 while also implementing major business improvement initiatives within tight timeframes may lead to issues around resource scarcity and process alignment.
- The increased reliance on technology provides opportunities for entities to unlawfully influence elections, undertake coordinated cyber-attacks, spread misinformation and cast doubt on the integrity of election results.
