

Interested in trying a job as an election official on for size?

The Electoral Commission of Queensland will soon be calling for Queenslanders from all walks of life to join our expanded team for the 2024 State general election on 26 October.

Temporary election officials play a critical role on the frontline, helping to deliver democracy to millions of Queensland electors. We value our election officials extremely highly and are committed to supporting a positive and rewarding experience.

There will be many more roles to fill at this election at our early voting centres and polling booths across Queensland as we increase the size of our state-wide team.

It doesn't matter if you've worked with us before. You'll receive training for the role you'll be undertaking and be supported in the work that you do for us.

Could you help us spread the word?

In this stakeholder kit you'll find the following resources and information:

- information for your regular communications, newsletters and website
- social media tiles to share on your organisation's social media channels
- a range of posters to choose from to display on your community or workplace noticeboard
- a short YouTube video link.

Key dates

Expressions of interest are now open and will be open right up until Election Day on 26 October 2024.

Key positions
