

Who can use this form?

You can use this form to enrol for federal, state and local government elections in Queensland if you are:

- 18 years of age or older
- an Australian citizen or a British subject who was on a Commonwealth roll on 25 January 1984*
- itinerant and don't have a real place of living, that is a place to which you intend to return to live, even if you are temporarily living somewhere else
- homeless – if you are living in crisis or transitional accommodation or if you have inadequate access to safe and secure housing.

* For Queensland electors only, if you were eligible to be on the state electoral roll on 31 December 1991.

You cannot use this form if you are:

- travelling around Australia on an extended trip and intend returning to your fixed address
- leaving Australia for a short period
- travelling for extended periods in connection with work, such as farm workers, fishing crews and mine workers but intend to return to your fixed address.

Is it compulsory to enrol and vote?

Enrolment is not compulsory for persons with no fixed address who are not already enrolled. However, it is compulsory to maintain your enrolment if you are currently enrolled. Use this form to update your enrolment as a person with no fixed address.

Voting is optional once a person with no fixed address is enrolled using this form.

In which division can you enrol?

You must enrol for the address where:

- A you were last eligible to be enrolled (this will generally be the place where you last lived for at least one month)
- B one of your next of kin is currently enrolled if you have not previously been eligible to be enrolled
- C you were born, if neither of the above apply, or
- D you have the closest connection if none of the above apply.

Within three weeks of receiving your enrolment form the AEC will confirm your enrolment. We may seek further information from you and confirm your enrolment using any of the contact details you provide.

Where do you vote?

- You will be able to vote at federal elections at any polling place within the electoral area for which you are enrolled. At federal elections, because your address will not be shown on the list of voters, you will need to complete a declaration vote.
- You may also cast an absent vote at any other polling place provided it is within your enrolled state or territory.
- If you are not in the state or territory for which you are enrolled, or if you are unable to attend a polling place on polling day, you may vote at a pre-poll centre, or by post.
- Contact any office of the AEC for more information on pre-poll and postal voting.
- For state elections you can vote at any polling place. You can also vote at any pre-poll, interstate or overseas polling place.

Change in living arrangements

If you establish a permanent place of living in Australia and live there for a period of one month, you must enrol as an ordinary elector. Enrolment forms are available from any Australia Post outlet, AEC office or at www.aec.gov.au

Homeless people who are living in crisis or transitional accommodation can continue to be enrolled as a person with no fixed address for as long as they remain living in this accommodation.

Who has access to your enrolment information?

The Commonwealth of Australia

The Australian Electoral Commission (AEC) is authorised under the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 (CEA) to collect and verify the information you have been asked to complete on this form. The information provided will assist the AEC to maintain electoral rolls.
