The Honourable Jarrod Bleijie MP
Attorney-General and Minister for Justice
Parliament House
Cnr Alice and George Streets
BRISBANE QLD 4000

Dear Attorney

I am pleased to submit for presentation to Parliament my report on the State General Election held on 24 March 2012. The report contains detailed results of voting in every electorate and a survey of ballot papers cast in a sample of districts.

The report also incorporates an evaluation of stakeholder feedback based on comprehensive surveys based on recognised random sampling methodology. I am pleased to record that public feedback has once again been highly supportive of the efficiency of the Commission's election operations. In addition you will note a number of recommendations for legislative change aimed at enhancing the effectiveness and accessibility of Queensland's electoral system.

The report contains information and statistical tables in relation to the South Brisbane By-Election, which was held on Saturday, 28 April 2012.

Pursuant to section 18(3) of the Act, the report should be tabled within three sitting days of your receipt. Once tabled, a copy of the report will be made available to the public on the Commission's website.

Yours sincerely

FOREWORD

PART 1: FOREWORD

The Electoral Commission of Queensland (ECQ) is an independent body charged with responsibility for the impartial conduct of Queensland parliamentary elections. The General Election held on 24 March 2012 was the eighth conducted by the Commission since its inception in 1991.

The writ issued for the 2012 State election differed from other recent State elections in two significant respects. In the absence of fixed term elections the Commission normally has no advance notice of when the election will be held. In this instance, however, the (then) Premier of Queensland announced the date of the election beforehand (on Wednesday 25 January 2012), approximately 25 days prior to the actual issue of the writ on Sunday 19 February 2012. In addition, whereas the election period for the two previous elections was the minimum allowed under the Act, for the 2012 election the campaign period was one week longer.

All other things being equal, these differences would have allowed the Commission to administer the election under a little less pressure than is the norm. The Commission was also responsible, however, for the conduct of the 2012 Local Government elections, with an actual overlap between the election periods for the two events. The rescheduling of the Local Government elections (from just before to just after the State election) added further to the level of complexity. As a small agency with only 50 permanent staff, the Commission's resources were tested to the limit.

To inform the evaluation of its election operations, the Commission undertook random surveys of a range of stakeholders including voters, candidates, political parties and polling place officials, independently validating the survey methodology. Feedback was also obtained from the ECQ's own staff as well as Returning Officers. The evaluation findings are outlined in Part 3, with the related survey data tables provided in Appendix A. Part 4 comprises detailed election statistics, including the results of polling in each electorate. Part 5 contains a ballot paper survey outlining levels and types of formal and informal voting in a sample of electoral districts.

The successful conduct of two major electoral events within such close proximity was no mean feat and I thank all of the Commission's staff for their tireless efforts and professionalism. I would also like to thank all of the Commission's stakeholders for their continued cooperation and constructive feedback.

Election Timetable

The chain of electoral events was triggered by the issue of the writ on Sunday 19 February 2012. The first key event was the process of voter registration – every Australian citizen aged 18 and over is required to enrol to vote. In previous elections, once the writ was issued, electors had a period of five days in which to enrol or to update their enrolment details. Following recent amendments to the Electoral Act 1992, for the 2012 State election electors had up until the day before polling day to enrol for their current address. The Australian Electoral Commission (AEC) provided assistance with the processing of these enrolments and the production of roll data on the eve of the election.

Nominations for candidates closed on Monday 27 February 2012. Unlike federal elections (where a 24 hour processing period is allowed after the close of nominations), at a State election the Commission's Returning Officers are required to conduct the draw for ballot paper positions immediately.

Electors unable to attend a polling booth on Election Day had the option of voting beforehand at a pre-poll centre (which for this election commenced on Friday 2 March 2012). Once the ballot paper draw was completed, the Commission had to begin printing ballot papers immediately in order to meet this deadline.

Polling day for the 2012 Election was Saturday 24 March 2012, 34 days after the issue of the writ. Although the elector's involvement ceased at that point, electoral officials were required to continue counting votes for a period of 10 days after polling day to allow for the return of postal votes, as well as conducting a full preference count. Results in a number of electorates could not be declared until a full preference count was concluded. The result of the General Election was formally communicated to the Governor on Monday 23 April 2012, the deadline specified in the writ.

Election costs

The Commission receives a budget appropriation for the conduct of State elections. The overall cost of the 2012 Election was $19.19 million compared with an initial estimate of $15.28 million. The increased expenditure is mainly attributable to the election being called at the last possible date and a longer election period than is normally the case (for example requiring pre-poll centres to be open for an extended period). These factors were beyond the Commission's control. A full outline of the Commission's election expenditure for the State General Election is set out in the following table.

Item	Cumulative expenditure as at 30 June 2012	Final anticipated costs
Staff & Related Payments	$7,666,540	$7,718,399
Pre-poll Voting	$698,950	$699,186
Scanning Operations	$184,850	$184,850
Tally Room	$262,970	$262,970

Call Centre	$482,740	$476,186
Election Warehouse Operation	$83,970	$77,489
Finance & Payroll Process	$98,810	$106,347
Central Postal Vote Process	$711,220	$712,417
Returning Officer Offices	$2,041,100	$2,074,498

Training	$79,930	$79,930
TOTAL	$19,038,130	$19,185,770

In addition to operational costs, the projected cost of election funding for political parties and candidates is $14.7 million.

Communications strategy

As in the 2009 election, a letter was sent to each enrolled elector advising them of their obligation to vote, the district they were enrolled in, voting options and the location of polling booths in their area. The letter incorporated a small tear off slip with a unique number for each elector, making it quicker and easier to mark them off the electoral roll and issue the correct ballot paper. The letter continues to be well received and widely used by electors, with 65% of electors surveyed reporting that they took the tear off slip with them to the polling booth and 79% confirming that they found the list of polling booths to be useful.

A small number of electors questioned the use of the letter and associated costs. The letter is in fact very cost effective, reducing the level of costly media advertising that would otherwise be required.

Dealing with elector enquiries

At each election the Commission receives a huge volume of enquiries from members of the public, typically wishing to check their enrolment details, voting options or the location of polling booths in their electoral district. For this election, the Commission's call centre to handle such enquiries was located and managed in-house (a considerable saving compared with 2009 when it was outsourced). Casual enquiry staff were engaged and received election-specific training, with permanent staff responding to more complex enquiries where necessary.

Even though electors could obtain information from the Commission's website, the number of telephone calls increased substantially to almost 200,000 in 2012 compared with approximately 79,000 for the 2009 State election. Hits on the Commission's website also increased substantially to approximately 67 million, compared with just under 31 million in 2009. The number of hits on the virtual tally room alone was over 16.8 million during the month of April 2012.

The Commission's website contained a description and maps of electorate boundaries, as well as a portal which allowed individual electors to check their enrolment status. The website also contained:

- the election timetable;
- an explanation of Optional Preferential Voting;
- Google maps showing polling booth locations (including disability access);
- information on alternative forms of voting;
- information for prospective candidates;
- names of candidates;
- employment opportunities; and
- election results.

The website was positively received, with 85% of electors surveyed rating it satisfactory or better.

Voting

The Electoral Act allows voting to take place in a number of different ways, depending upon electors' particular circumstances – where they live, their state of health, whether they are working or travelling on Election Day, their religious beliefs, and so on.

The following table sets out the number and percentages of electors who voted in different categories.

Vote Category	Count	Total Votes (%)
Ordinary	1,810,047	72.41%
Postal	211,619	8.47%
Pre-poll	245,247	9.81%
Absent	212,611	8.51%
Electoral visit	1,763	0.07%
Declared Institution	18,476	0.74%
TOTAL VOTES	2,499,763

Voting at polling booths

A total of 2,100 polling booths were in operation across Queensland on Election Day, from 8.00am until 6.00pm. As shown in the table above, a total of 1,810,047 votes were cast on Election Day, or 72.41% of all votes cast in the election.

Assistance with voting was available from polling staff for anyone who requested it, such as blind and vision impaired electors or people with writing difficulties. Magnifying sheets for vision impaired electors were provided in every polling booth. Electors were also entitled to be accompanied by an interpreter or to seek assistance from a friend or family member.

Postal voting

Electors were entitled to a postal vote if they:

- would not be in their electoral district on Election Day;
- would not be within eight kilometres of a polling place on Election Day;
- would be travelling under conditions that prevent voting at a polling booth;
- were ill, pregnant or had a disability that would prevent their attendance at a polling booth on Election Day; or
- were unable to attend a polling place because of their religious beliefs.

A total of 211,619 electors voted by post, an increase of 17.38% on the 2009 State election. In addition, 36 electors voted by post using braille ballot papers.

Special Postal Voters

The Commission maintains a Register of Special Postal Voters (silent voters or electors in remote areas) to whom ballot papers are sent automatically as soon as they are available. 28,594 electors used this service.

Pre-polling votes

Pre-poll voting is similar to Election Day voting in that the elector is required to physically attend a polling centre.

Unlike previous elections, there was no legislative requirement to make a declaration of eligibility. Electors were free to vote early if they wished and for the most part could do so as an ordinary vote. A total of 245,247 electors (9.81% of the total vote) voted in this way, compared with just under 151,000 in the 2009 election. The almost 60% increase reflects an ever-increasing tendency for electors to vote early.

Declared Institutions and Electoral Visitor voting

For electoral events the Commission arranges for certain institutions, such as nursing homes and aged care facilities, to be declared mobile polling booths. Residents of these institutions find it difficult, because of infirmity, to attend a polling booth on polling day. Electoral officials visit the institutions at a pre-arranged time leading up to 6.00pm on polling day and issue votes to electors. Other electors who, because of illness or disability, have difficulty attending a polling booth on polling day, may apply for an electoral visit vote. Electoral officials made arrangements to visit residences before 6.00pm on polling day to ensure electors could cast a vote, with candidates advised of the times and places of visits to enable them to have scrutineers present. Queensland is the only jurisdiction in Australia to offer home electoral visits.

For the 2012 election, a total of 18,476 votes (0.74% of the total vote) were issued at declared institutions and a further 1,763 electoral visitor votes (0.07%) were recorded.

Remote polling

The conduct of remote polling has always been a challenge. The Commission deploys a combination of aircraft, boats and four wheel drives to ensure that people in remote areas are able to vote. For the 2012 election, polling officials visited 20 communities in the Torres Strait and the Gulf of Carpentaria, taking votes from 2,079 electors. Mobile polling occurred as follows:

Badu Island	Boigu Island	Coconut Island
Darnley Island	Dauan Island	Hammond Island
Injinoo	Kubin (Moa Island)	Mapoon
Maubiag Island	Murray (Mer) Island	New Mapoon
Saibai Island	Seisia	St Pauls (Moa Island)
Stephen Island	Umagico	Warraber Island
Yam Island	Yorke Island

CLIENT FEEDBACK

PART 3: CLIENT FEEDBACK

As part of its election evaluation process, the Commission conducted a random sample of 12,900 electors and other stakeholders. The Commission engaged the Institute for Social Science Research at the University of Queensland to provide independent advice:

- on the survey questions, to ensure that the questions posed were appropriate and would not prejudice the responses and hence the outcome of the survey; and
- on the sample sizes to be selected at random, by employing statistical techniques to calculate the minimum sample sizes sufficient to obtain the required number of responses to support a 95% level of confidence with a +/-5% precision.

The survey covered the different ways of casting a vote with survey forms sent to each of the following categories–

- Ordinary (attendance) voters (2,200);
- Postal voters (1,500);
- Special postal voters (1,200);
- Pre-poll voters (2,000);
- Absent voters (5,000); and
- Polling officials (1,000).

A table summarising the University of Queensland's quantitative advice follows:

The Commission also conducted surveys of other key stakeholders. These were:

- All candidates (430) contesting the election.
- All registered political parties (6) who endorsed candidates for the election.
- All Returning Officers (89) and an assistant Returning Officer.
- All Commission staff.

The surveys assessed satisfaction with key operational objectives such as the quality of information supplied by ECQ, the convenience and effectiveness of the call centre and other contact options, the impact of ECQ advertising and utilisation of the website for key information. The survey also sought to determine the level of service provided at the polling booth and to gauge desired methods of voting in future. By the return deadline of Friday 31 August, a total of 3,536 elector responses (27.4%) and 161 stakeholder responses (30.6%) were received.

The overall feedback from electors and other stakeholders was positive. A summary of the responses is set out below. Survey data tables appear in Appendix A.

ELECTORAL INNOVATION

© Electoral Commission Queensland

PART 4: ELECTORAL INNOVATION

The Commission put in place a number of organisational and technological innovations for the 2012 State General Election.

SMS reminder service

An SMS reminder service was provided for the first time to all electors who signed up on the ECQ website within the prescribed time. As part of the service provided by the Commission, two separate messages were sent to electors during the election period. The first reminder was sent a week prior to polling day and the second on polling day. By all reports from those who utilised the service, it was a great success and they intend to use the service again at the next election if available.

Email election alert for registered overseas voters

Because Australian news has limited coverage overseas and the majority of electors travelling or working overseas find out about the election too late to cast a postal vote, the Commission developed a database containing the contact email address for those electors.

As soon as details of the election dates were known a broadcast email was sent to the electors providing information on casting a vote overseas or by post and a link to the Commission's website for further information. The feedback received from the electors was extremely positive.

An added benefit to the Commission was the updating of enrolment records where an elector no longer resided overseas which in turn led to a more accurate roll.

Enrolment and voting up to polling day

At previous State elections, persons only had up to the official Close of Rolls date to enrol or to effect changes to the address they had registered on the roll. Under legislative amendments enacted in 2011, electors are now given a second opportunity. They can lawfully enrol, or update their enrolled address, at any stage up to and including the day before Election Day.

While this is beneficial for the electors concerned and increases participation, it does pose some administrative challenges for the Commission. Between 25 February 2012 (the 'official' roll close) and 23 March 2012, a further 64,618 enrolment transactions were required to be processed, 18,908 first time enrolments and 45,710 notified changes of address. Details of the enrolments were progressively notified to the 89 Returning Officers to enable the elector's vote to be admitted to the count.

The AEC provided valuable assistance in the processing of enrolments during this period and the provision of updated roll data the night before polling day.

Funding and disclosure

A number of reforms to the funding and disclosure provisions also came into effect for the first time in the 2012 State General Election. The reforms changed how election funding was administered and the requirements for disclosing electoral donations.

WHERE CAN WE IMPROVE?

PART 5: WHERE CAN WE IMPROVE?

Nominations - draw for ballot paper position

The Electoral Act requires the announcement of candidates for election as soon as practicable after noon on the cut-off day for nominations. The draw for positions is currently carried out at approximately 3.00pm on the day of nomination. The short timeframe available for verifying candidate nominations increases the likelihood of an error being made. The ECQ notes that for federal elections an additional day is allowed and would support an identical provision applying to Queensland State elections, especially in the light of the number of candidates (and sometimes parties) who leave it until the very last minute to lodge nominations.

Returning Officer training

Without a firm date for the State election, the Electoral Commission commenced initial training for its State Returning Officers in May 2011, with refresher training planned for December 2011. However, when the Commission was given responsibility for the 2012 Local Government elections, training for the local government Returning Officers was conducted in December instead.

Feedback from Returning Officers has indicated that, whilst there was sufficient training on the computer systems and applications used by the Commission, it would be beneficial to devote more time to other operational processes. The ECQ acknowledges the merit in this proposal and will place added emphasis on operational training in future, either face-to-face or online. It is also planned to investigate options for online training of polling booth officials.

Postal voting

One of the biggest challenges facing the Commission is the significant increase in postal voting. With this trend expected to continue, the Commission is cognisant of the heavy reliance on the reliability of postal delivery services, most particularly in regional and remote areas. After the election instances came to light where some electors did not receive their ballot paper material until after voting had concluded, even though it had been despatched at least two to three weeks prior to Election Day. While the number of electors who experienced difficulties was very small in relation to the total number of electors enrolled and even the overall level of postal voting activity, it remains unacceptable that the vote of an enrolled elector may not be able to be counted because of such delays.

One possible solution would be to allow postal voters in more remote areas to vote via the internet, as is now the case in New South Wales elections. Absent such legislative change, the ECQ will encourage a joint approach to Australia Post by all Australian electoral authorities under the auspices of the Electoral Council of Australia.

Current legislation also allows an elector to apply for a postal vote up until 6.00pm on the Thursday before polling day, when the reality is that few if any electors are likely to receive their ballot material in time to vote if they leave it so late to apply.

This is one area where in the ECQ's view Queensland's local government electoral legislation is a step ahead. The Local Government Electoral Act 2011 sets the deadline for postal vote applications as 6.00pm on the Wednesday before polling day, making it more likely that late applicants will receive their ballot material in time to vote.

Nominations - payment of fee

The Electoral Act requires that nominations must be submitted in person and be accompanied by a deposit either in cash or in the form of a bank cheque.

At every election there are candidates or parties that experience difficulty with the payment of the nomination fee, for example expecting to pay their deposit by personal cheque. The Commission would support legislative provision for both nominations and deposits to be lodged online.

Non-voter processing

In similar vein, the Commission sees no reason why the legislation cannot allow the payment of non-voters fines to be effected electronically.

Secret voting for people with disabilities

For some time now the Commission has been advocating for the introduction of telephone and internet voting options for people who are denied a secret vote because of a disability that prevents them from filling out the ballot paper without assistance. Many electors in this category (such as blind and vision impaired) have special telephone or computer equipment in their own homes that would enable them to vote independently. Modern technology would enable the Commission to facilitate voting by these means and the Commission has already set some funding aside. All that is required is the legislative authority to proceed.

The Commission considers that internet voting is also a viable option for electors in remote areas, or who happen to be interstate or overseas, particularly where those electors may otherwise be disenfranchised.

Electoral District First Preference Votes and Distribution of Preferences

Election Results

The 2012 Statistical Returns for Queensland's 89 electoral districts are presented alphabetically. Starting with the district of Albert and finishing at the district of Yeerongpilly.

District tables display the first preference count of ordinary and declaration votes in absolute (number) and relative (%) terms. Ordinary votes are recorded by candidate by polling booth. Declaration and pre-poll votes (postal, unenrolled, pre-poll, absent, electoral visit, declared institution and remote area mobile polling) are recorded by candidate. Total formal, informal and total votes are also shown for each booth and each category of declaration and pre-poll votes.

The results of distributions of preferences are also shown for the electoral districts which are contested by more than two candidates.

Both district tables are read across the page.

Sample: Redlands Electoral District

Candidates are identified by registered party and are listed across the table in ballot paper order. Candidate vote percentages are calculated to the base of total formal votes. The remaining percentage columns are calculated to the base of total votes.

Declaration and pre-poll votes are displayed at district, not polling booth level.

Candidate(s) are listed down the first column in order of exclusion. The Candidate vote % column is calculated to the base of votes remaining in the count. The Exhausted % column is calculated to the base of total formal votes.

Glossary of Terms and Abbreviations

ADE:	Average district enrolment of electors gazetted monthly, calculated by dividing the total state-wide enrolment by eighty-nine.
AEC:	Australian Electoral Commission.
CPV:	Compulsory preferential voting method used for federal House of Representatives elections. Electors are obliged to express preferences for as many candidates as appear on the ballot paper.
DECLARATION VOTES:	Sometimes called 'Special' or 'Sectional' votes. Include absent, postal, pre-poll in person, unenrolled and uncertain identity votes. Electoral visit votes are regarded as 'Ordinary Votes'.
DISCLOSURE:	Introduced for the first time at the 1995 Queensland State General Election. Financial disclosure provisions require half yearly returns by registered political parties, associated entities and donors to registered political parties. Returns of gifts received, loans received and election expenditure from candidates and others who incur expenditure for political purposes during an election campaign must be lodged following the election.
EA 1992:	The (Queensland) Electoral Act 1992.
EARC:	The Electoral and Administrative Review Commission (1990-1993).
ECQ:	The Electoral Commission of Queensland.
EXCLUDED CANDIDATES:	During the scrutiny under CPV and OPV the candidate with the least number of votes at each count of preferences is excluded (removed) from the count and his/her votes are then distributed to remaining candidates.
EXHAUSTED VOTES:	These are the votes of excluded candidates which show only one preference or a partial distribution of preferences (eg. 1, 2, 3 for example, in a district where say 5 candidates stood). These votes are counted to the preference indicated whereupon they 'exhaust' and go no further.
FULL DISTRIBUTION OF PREFERENCES:	The results after preferences have been allocated to the last two candidates remaining in the count (often beyond the point where a winner has been determined).
IND:	Abbreviation used on occasions for Independents.
INDEPENDENT:	A candidate or parliamentarian who is not endorsed by a registered political party.
INFORMAL VOTES:	Votes not admitted to the count because, for example, the ballot paper was left blank, was incorrectly marked, or the voter's intention was unclear.
LIVE VOTES:	Votes remaining in count.
MP:	Abbreviation for Member of Parliament to the Legislative Assembly for Queensland.

© Electoral Commission Queensland

OPV:	Optional preferential voting method. Electors may express preferences for one, some or all candidates on the ballot paper.
ORDINARY VOTES:	Votes cast on polling day within the district in which the elector is enrolled.
PRIMARY VOTES:	Also known as 'primaries', these are the formal first preference votes obtained by any candidate. Where no candidate has an absolute majority of primary votes, the seat is determined after (2^{nd}, 3^{rd}, 4^{th} …) preferences are distributed.
PREFERENCE VOTES:	Term sometimes applied to votes expressed in order of preference after a primary (first preference), but technically the term refers to all votes recorded including the first, second, third… and later preferences.
PUBLIC FUNDING:	Introduced at the 1995 Queensland State General Election. Provisions allow for the reimbursement of election campaign costs to eligible parties and independents. Reimbursement is calculated on sliding scales as a percentage of eligible capped electoral expenditure. More than four per cent of the formal first preference vote is required to claim public funding.
QUOTA:	Calculated at the start of a redistribution, this is the average number of electors determined by dividing the total number of electors by the number of districts into which the State is to be divided for representation purposes.
POLITICAL PARTY ABBREVIATIONS	LNP – Liberal National Party; ALP – Australian Labor Party; GRN – The Greens; FFP – Family First Party; ONP – One Nation; DSQ – Daylight Saving for South East Queensland; KAP - Katter's Australian Party. (Abbreviations are by ECQ in complex tables for statistical purposes in lieu of the Registered Party Abbreviation)
RO:	Abbreviation for Returning Officer for a State electoral district.
REDISTRIBUTION:	The redrawing of the electoral map involving changes in electoral district boundaries.
REGISTERED POLITICAL PARTY:	A political party registered under the Electoral Act 1992 for State electoral purposes. The Commonwealth maintains its own register.
SEAT STATUS:	Classifies districts into one of three categories, based on results after the distribution of preferences: • Safe = above 60% of the vote; • Fairly Safe = between 56.01% and 59.99% of the vote; and • Marginal = between 50.00% and 56.00% of the vote.
TURNOUT:	Also known as the participation rate for the election (ie the total number of voters expressed as a percentage of the total number of electors on the roll).
UNICAMERAL:	A legislature, like Queensland's, with only one chamber or house.
WEIGHTAGE:	Five State electoral districts in excess of 100,000 square kilometres are 'weighted' to the extent of the equivalent of 2% of their land area. The weightage formula adds 28,765 to the roll in the districts of Cook, Dalrymple, Gregory, Mount Isa and Warrego.
WRIT:	Instructions from the Governor to the Electoral Commissioner regarding the conduct of an election.

PART 7: BALLOT PAPER SURVEY

1. Introduction

1.1 The aim of the ECQ's ballot paper survey is to provide updated information about ballot papers cast at the 2012 election. The results of this survey will be used to assist in the development of programs aimed at assisting and informing Queenslanders of their rights and obligations in relation to future elections. As part of the electoral research conducted by the Commission, an analysis of a survey of the ballot papers for the immediate past State election held on 24 March 2012 was conducted.

1.2 A total of 11 electoral districts were selected for this survey. Similar surveys following the 2001, 2004, 2006 and 2009 elections have previously been undertaken. The districts used in the 2009 study have also been selected for this study for comparative purposes. Some trends are highlighted from these previous studies. The methodology used to analyse the ballot papers is outlined below.

1.3 The Commission has examined all ballot papers for the selected districts and provided comparative data where relevant. There were no changes in electoral boundaries between 2009 and 2012.

1.4 For the 2012 election, the Commission expanded the use of 'super polling places', where electors can cast a vote for any electoral district as an ordinary vote rather than having to fill out a declaration. (Using lap top computers and printers, ballot papers are produced electronically on demand.) In addition to the Brisbane CBD (where such voting was available at the 2009 election), polling places at Burleigh, Surfers Paradise Maroochydore and Noosaville were equipped for this purpose. A total of 54,939 votes were cast at the five polling places, representing 2.19% of all votes cast in Queensland. The following table identifies each 'super centre' and the total ballot papers issued for each polling place.

Table (1) Summary of super polling places for Queensland

Location	Pre Poll Votes	Polling Day Votes	Total Votes
Brisbane CBD	10,905	5,338	16,243
Burleigh Centre	10,132	1,637	11,769
Maroochydore	5,641	3,319	8,960
Noosaville East	5,085	2,319	7,404
Surfers Paradise	7,508	3,055	10,563
Total	39,271	15,668	54,939

1.5 The data in this report should be seen as a basis for further research. The data will also be shared with other electoral authorities in assisting developing relevant programs.

Survey methodology

1.6 The following table identifies the districts used for the survey and relevant data. It should be noted that the districts analysed represent all three geographical classifications used by the ECQ (Metropolitan, Provincial and Rural). The geographic classifications are based on specific demographic criteria. Urban districts are situated in large cities consisting of well-established built-up suburbs. Provincial districts are areas outside large cities and contain large areas of recent suburban expansion. Rural districts are outside built up areas and do not contain a majority of enrolment in major provincial cities. It should also be noted that the total number of polling places for each district includes the 'super polling places'.

Table (2) Summary of selected districts

Waterford	Urban	20	32,856	89.31	6	3.41	73.01

1.7 As stated above a total of 11 districts were selected for analysis - these are the same districts analysed for the 2009 election. A combined total of 56 candidates contested the districts (four urban, four provincial and three rural) represented in the sample.

1.8 Table (2) identifies each district, the geographical classification, the number of 'static polling places', the total enrolment for the district at the close of rolls, the turnout expressed as a percentage of the enrolment and the number of candidates for each district. The informal vote is expressed as a percentage of the total vote.

1.9 The ECQ retains ballot papers, sorted by polling place from the election. Informal votes and formal votes are maintained separately. The ballot papers have been sorted by polling place level and aggregated to district and geographical levels. The following table summarises the ballot papers used in the survey by type. A total of 308,734 ballot papers were used in the survey.

2. Enrolment

2.1 Any election requires three critical components:
(a) an electoral system;
(b) registered voters; and
(c) candidates.

2.2 The electoral roll of registered voters is administered by the AEC under a Joint Roll Arrangement between the State and Commonwealth Governments.

2.3 It is axiomatic that as Queensland's population increases, the number of registered voters for each election will increase. Table (4) lists the selected districts and the enrolment and turnout for the 2006, 2009 and 2012 elections. The State total is included at the bottom of the table.

Table (4) Enrolment and voter turnout

District	Enrolment 2006	Turnout	Enrolment 2009	Turnout	Enrolment 2012	Turnout
Burdekin	23,404	91.56	29,654	91.41	30,060	90.96
Burleigh	35,595	87.66	31,067	88.85	32,062	88.41
Cairns	25,720	85.94	31,726	86.84	31,896	87.83
Capalaba	27,064	92.48	31,609	92.69	31,638	92.97
Gympie	31,341	92.27	30,413	92.06	31,358	92.53
Indooroopilly	26,383	89.34	29,028	90.61	28,209	89.89
Moggill	28,931	91.5	30,687	92.68	31,706	92.84
Nicklin	30,190	90.53	29,628	90.92	30,695	90.85
Toowoomba North	25,632	92.16	32,402	91.69	33,030	92.36
Warrrego	21,021	90.86	25,785	90.89	26,233	91.77
Warterford	27,507	88.67	31,881	89.13	32,856	89.31
QLD	2,484,479	90.47	2,660,940	90.93	2,746,844	91

2.4 The above table demonstrates that voter turnout has increased over the last three elections, with 91.0% of the eligible voters voting in 2012. Three of the selected districts had a lower turnout compared to the 2009 election (Burleigh, Indooroopilly, and Nicklin). However the overall State turnout increased from 90.93% in 2009 to 91.0% at the 2012 election.

2.5 A total of 85,904 electors were added to the Queensland electoral roll in the period between the close of rolls for the 2009 and close of rolls for the 2012 election. In terms of overall turnout there were 80,204 more votes cast at the 2012 election compared with 2009.

2.6 Another phenomenon of interest in elections is the number of candidates, also increasing for each election. The following table identifies the number of candidates for the 2006, 2009 and 2012 elections. There was an increase of 33 candidates in the 2012 election compared to the 2009 election. Only the number of male candidates increased. The total number of female candidates decreased by three.

Table (5) Number of candidates at elections

Election	Male	Female	Total
2006	232	97	329
2009	282	115	397
2012	318	112	430

3. Informal voting

3.1 A total of 2,499,763 votes were cast at the 2012 State election. The informal votes totalled 53,797 or 2.15% of the total votes cast. This is a change of +0.21 percentage points from the previous election (2009 resulted in 1.94% informal votes being cast).

3.2 In the election as a whole the level of informality ranged from 4.11% (Woodridge) to 0.78% (Ashgrove). In relation to the districts selected for the survey, the range was 3.41% (Waterford) to 1.38% (Indooroopilly).

3.3 By any standard the percentage of informal votes in Queensland is low. The following table identifies the most recent election in each State and the percentage of informal votes. The elections are in order of informality. It should be noted that the Queensland informality (2.15%) is the lowest amongst all elections.

Table (6) Informal votes – Australia

3.4 One possible reason for the low informal vote in Queensland is that the Queensland Parliament consists of a lower house only; consequently voters are issued with one ballot paper. The Queensland electoral system, similar to nearly every electoral system around the world, has a number of informal votes cast at each election. These informal ballots do not count towards any candidate, and are counted separately. For analytical purposes, the Commission sorts and categorises informal ballot papers into several categories according to the reason for their informality.

3.5 The AEC research in connection with informal voting notes that the level of informal voting is influenced by many factors. At a federal level the voter is required to complete every square in order to have it cast as a formal vote. In Queensland the system of 'optional preferential' voting allows the voter to preference only one candidate or, alternatively, as many as the voter wishes. Consequently, '1 only' votes which would be considered informal at a federal election are actually valid votes at the Queensland election. The following graph represents the informal votes for the 2012 election and the 2009 election in the selected districts.

Graph (1) Percentage of informal vote by district

3.6 The rate of informal voting is in ascending order. According to this data the rate of informal voting is very similar for urban and provincial seats but is lower in rural seats. This trend is consistent with previous studies using the same 11 districts. Also of interest is that the ranking of the 11 districts is similar to the 2009 study (Waterford remains the highest informal ranked district, Cairns the second, Indooroopilly, the last etc.).

Types of informal voting

3.7 Informal votes were classified into the following seven categories:

(1) Writing
(2) Blanks
(3) Marks and scribbles
(4) Ticks or crosses
(5) Defective numbering
(6) Writing identifying the elector
(7) Other.

3.8 The categories are self-explanatory. The category 'other' contains ballot papers that contain a combination of the other six categories, e.g. defective numbering and writing and ticks and crosses. Table (7) identifies the district with the highest and lowest percentage of each category while Table (8) identifies each of the sample districts and the number and percentage of informal votes by category.

3.9 Blank ballot papers account for the highest proportion of informal papers making up 38.01% of all informal. This compared with 35.44% in 2009. This is an increase of 2.57 percentage points from the 2009 election. There is no consensus amongst political scientists of what a blank ballot indicates. There are arguments that it can be seen as a protest vote or accidental.

3.10 The second highest category found in the survey was those identified as writing and, contains no numbering. These ballot papers contained comments made by the elector. Many contained 'write ins' in which case the elector added an extra box where a '1 only' was placed and continued to preference the remaining candidates. The names of the 'write in' varied from fictitious characters to religious figures and previous candidates. Other types of writing including comments which included protesting against compulsory voting, commenting on lack of political choice and crude messages. This type of informal vote represented 24.51% of the informal vote, compared with 24.48% in 2009 representing an increase of 0.03 percentage points. Those selected divisions with a lower informal vote tended to have more comments on specific candidates and political parties than those with higher informality rates. Those with higher informality rates tended to write comments that indicated they were disengaged with the political process.

3.11 The third highest category of informal voting are those ballot papers identified as 'marks and scribbles'. These ballot papers are usually blank and contain graffiti or scribbles but no numbering. This represents 17.87% of the informal vote compared with 17.53% from the last election.

3.12 If we nominate blank papers to be a deliberate act of informality and add the other two categories which are definitely deliberate (Writing and Marks and scribbles) then these three categories account for 80.39% of all the informal votes cast at the Queensland election. This is an increase of 5.47 percentage points from the last election (74.92% at the 2009 election).

3.13 The remaining categories of informal votes appear to be accidental. A total of 9.57% of ballot papers were identified as containing defective numbering.

 © Electoral Commission Queensland

These ballot papers contained either more than one '1' or no first preference at all.

3.14 The following table (7) ranks the highest and lowest district by informality category.

Table (7) Informal categories ranked highest to lowest

Category	Highest	Lowest
Writing	Nicklin (30.98%)	Burdekin (17.31%)
Blanks	Burleigh (44.90%)	Moggill (31.95%)
Marks/Scribbles	Toowoomba Nth (21.14%)	Cairns (14.29%)
Ticks/Crosses	Indooroopilly (3.70%)	Waterford (1.30)
Defective Numbering	Burdekin (14.62%)	Nicklin (7.90%)

3.15 Since 2006 the percentage of blank ballot papers has continued to increase from 30.74% in 2006 to 38.01% in 2012. The following graph represents the trend of the three main categories in informality since 2001.

4. Optional Preferential Voting (OPV)

4.1 The OPV system requires the voter to place a '1' as the first preference and the voter may then mark preferences for other candidates or leave the ballot paper marked with a single '1'. This differs from the federal system where the elector must mark every square. Consequently the voter may mark the ballot paper in three ways: a single primary preference; a partial preference; or a full preference (marking every square).

4.2 The introduction of OPV was a result of the Queensland Electoral and Administrative Review Commission in 1992. Since 2001 there has been a dramatic increase in ballot papers marked '1' only. Whereas in 1992 the percentage was only 23%, in 2001 it increased to 60%. At the 2009 election the percentage was 63.03% and this survey reflects a further increase of 6.89 percent - resulting in 69.92% voting '1' only – see Table (10).

4.3 A total of 3.64% expressed partial preference and 26.44% voted using full preferential. This reveals voters are likely to opt for two options – '1 only' or a full distribution of preferences.

4.4 Based on the sample, metropolitan voters had the highest '1 only' rate, provincial voters had the highest partial preference vote and rural voters had the highest full preference vote. In terms of the partial preference votes, the majority of voters used 1 and 2 preferences.

4.5 A number of districts had a '1 only' percentage higher than 70% (Capalaba, Waterford, Burleigh, Toowoomba North, Warrego). These are identified in Graph (3) which tracks the districts by '1 only', partial and full preferences. Table (9) below reflects the districts that rated the highest and lowest with the three categories of voting.

4.6 Table (11) below identifies the selected districts by geographical classification and political party showing percentages of '1 only', partial preferences and full preferences.

4.7 The table reveals that the LNP registered the highest percentage of '1 only' (78.76%). The 2009 election saw the LNP register 74.79% of the '1 only' vote, which represents a change of +3.97 percentage points from the last election.

4.8 The nearest party registering a high '1 only' was the ALP with 68.94 %. At the last election the ALP registered 56.49% of the '1 only' vote. The obvious conclusion is the '1 only' vote is increasing as demonstrated in graph 4.

4.9 The Katter Australia Party (KAP) recorded the highest percentage of partial votes (7.97%). Voters in the provincial areas marked KAP ballot papers with partial preferences more than rural or metropolitan voters (10.16%).

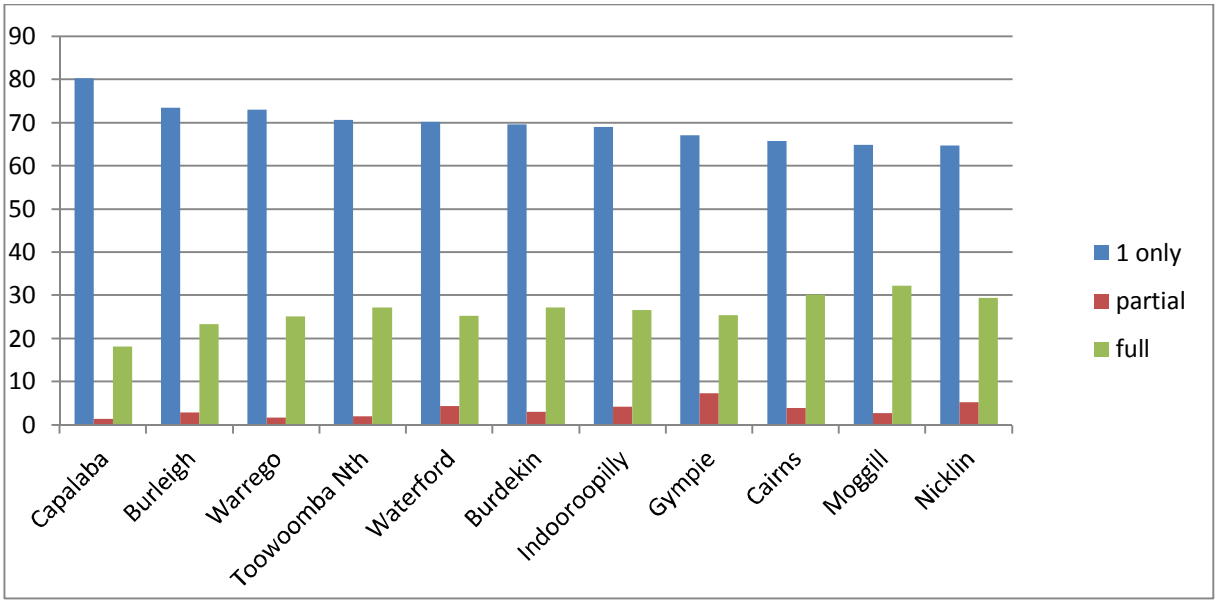

4.10 In terms of full preferences the Greens and Family First Party recorded the highest percentages. However both parties' percentages of full preferences were lower than the 2009 election. The Greens recorded 44.15% of the vote (48.40% in 2009) and the Family First Party recorded 45.17% of full preferences (47.20% in 2009).

Graph (3) Percentage of formal votes by category

4.11 It is clear the percentage of ballot papers marked '1 only' is increasing at each election. In 2001 this percentage was 59.89%, in 2012 the percentage rose to 69.64%. The following graph illustrates this point by graphing the '1 only', partial and full preference ballot papers at each election since 2001. Despite this increase there appears to be little effect on the number of seats requiring preference distributions in order to win a seat. At the 2012 election, 44 of the 89 seats required a distribution of preferences before a winner could be declared. In terms of the selected districts, 6 of the 11 districts required preferences.

5. Ordinary and extra-ordinary votes

5.1 This section compares the composition of ordinary votes cast at polling booths on Election Day with other vote types.

5.2 In the survey a total of 71.04% of electors cast a vote at an ordinary polling booth compared with 76.37% in 2009. The ballot papers for ordinary votes also represented the highest informality rate amongst all the ballot paper type.

5.3 A total of 26,121 or 8.46% of ballot papers were postal (7.42% in 2009) and 35,252 ballot papers (11.42%) were from pre-poll. There was a significant increase in pre-poll votes from the 2009 election; a change of 4.1 percentage points. Absent votes represent 8.31% of the total ballot papers.

5.4 Table (12) identifies each of the sample districts, the informal votes by vote type and the percentage of the total votes for each vote type.

5.5 The district of Warrego represents the highest postal vote (17.11%), while Burleigh had the highest Pre-poll ballots. The highest recorded absent ballots were found in Indooroopilly.

5.6 Overall the percentage of ballot papers in the Extra-ordinary category is increasing. The following graph illustrates this point by graphing the extras – Postal, Pre-poll and Absent votes - since 2004. The figures reveal that in terms of the overall Extra-ordinary votes, 16.25% of ballot papers at the 2004 election constituted the Extra-ordinary votes and at the 2012 election this figure has risen to 27.59%.

5.7 In terms of marking ballot papers there is no evidence that electors mark ballot papers in the Extra-ordinary category any differently to ordinary votes. In terms of '1 only' marks the Postal (69.90%), Pre-poll (70.75%) and Absent (69.65%) were all within the range of ordinary votes cast for this category.

6. Summary of findings

- This study analyses 11 State Districts that consist of 308,734 electors.
- The introduction of 'Super Polling Places' in Burleigh, Maroochydore, Noosaville and Surfers Paradise, together with Brisbane CBD (which was the sole such polling place in 2009 and was used again) produced 54,939 ballot papers or 2.19% of the total ballot papers for the State.
- The total enrolled electors for the State was 2,746,844 with a turnout of 91.0%.
- The number of candidates increased from 397 in 2009 to 430 in 2012.
- The total informal vote for the State was 2.15%, an increase of +0.21 percentage points from the previous election.
- The informal rate of 2.15% is the lowest informal rate amongst the other States and Territories and Commonwealth.
- The survey found that Indooroopilly has the lowest informal rate (1.38%) and Waterford (3.41%) has the highest.
- When collating the informal rates for 2012, the ranking of the districts was the same as in the 2009 election (Indooroopilly the lowest and Waterford the highest).
- Blank ballot papers constituted the highest informal category (38.01%) and writing comments of ballot papers made 24.52% of all informal votes.
- The blank ballot papers and writing of ballot papers constituted 62.5% of all informal votes.
- Those ballot papers identified as writing contained write-ins where an elector had added a voting box and the name of a fictional character, religious figure or a political figure who was not a candidate.
- Indooroopilly write-ins often made remarks on specific political parties or candidates while Waterford comments often referred to the political or electoral process in general terms.
- Since 2001 there has been an increase in blank ballot papers and writing in informal ballot papers.
- A total of 69.92% of electors marked their ballot paper with a '1 only'. This is an increase of 6.89 percentage points from the previous election.
- The LNP recorded the highest '1 only' marks on a ballot paper with 78.76% of all ballot papers marked with '1 only'.
- The Greens (44.15%) and Family First (45.17%) recorded the highest percentage of ballot papers marked with full preferences.
- The Katter Australia Party recorded the highest percentage of ballot papers marked with partial preferences (7.97%)
- The percentage of ballot papers marked '1 only' continues to increase. At the 2001 election this percentage was 58.89% and at the 2012 election it increased to 69.92%
- The increase of '1 only' does not appear to have any effect on the number of seats requiring preferences.

- The percentage of Extra-ordinary votes increased from the last election.
- Postal ballot papers represented 8.46% of all ballot papers in the survey, an increase of +1.04% from the last election.
- Pre-poll votes represented 11.42% of all votes cast (an increase of 4.1 percentage points from the last election)
- Absent votes represented 8.31% of all votes cast for the selected districts.
- The marking of ballot papers for Extra-ordinary votes did not differ markedly from ordinary ballot papers.
- Overall there was an increase in Pre-poll and Postal voting.
