Submission text: All Rockhampton residents should vote (either yes or no) because the previous 'survey' for deamalgamation was a joke. Rockhampton residents were not allowed to vote and the government at the time got the result they wanted. The coast had the numbers which meant these suburbs were outnumbered and their desire to stay with rrc was not acheived. If this present survey is not binding then why was the previous deamalgamation 'survey' when all parties were not allowed a voice.
