If you do not receive your postal ballot material, you can still cast your vote in person. Polling booth information can be found at ecq.qld.gov and here.

Election day voting

Election day voting is between 8am and 6pm, Saturday 28 March.

You must vote in your local government area.

If you received a voter information card either via email or in the post, take this with you when you vote. This will assist in the electoral roll mark-off process.

If you are unable to vote in person and receive an Apparent Failure to Vote Notice for this election from the ECQ please make reference to your attempt to postal vote in the applicable area on the form.
